

European Platform
Against Windfarms

"Wind turbines : We shall go on to the end, we shall fight on the grounds, we shall fight on the seas , we shall never surrender."

Choose your language:

Nombre de visiteurs : 1108279

Paris: 2016-03-01

Documents > Noise, health > Video: Health effects explained - It isn't just annoying noise

Video: Health effects explained

It isn't just annoying noise

What's interesting in the new documentary WIND RUSH is not the usual mantra about clean energy. What's interesting is that the health effects of windfarms are recognized by health professionals, and explained very clearly. So we made an abridged version grouping the parts that help understand why there is a health problem.

Here it is below. It's an eye-opener for most people.

Recommend Share 161
Tweet
G+1 5
in Share 0

Please, download a Flash player

Abridged video from WIND RUSH - Feb. 25, 2013

Not to be missed in the abridged version above: the explanations of Dr Nissenbaum, starting after 2 minutes 34 seconds (2:34 as shown on the meter below the video), then after 3:24, and after 5:10 (do not miss this last one): MODULATION is a big problem. And so is low frequency sound (including infrasound): do not miss Dr Alec Salt on that subject. In fact, do not miss any of the doctors and professors who speak - they are grouped together for your convenience in the abridged video.

- They say no to wind turbines
- Guides
- Files
- Books
- Photomontages
- Inefficiency
- Noise, health
- Contamination
- Shadow flicker
- Loss of property value
- Effects on tourism
- Blade throw
- Fire risk
- Birds and bats
- Farm animals
- Cetaceans
- Butterflies and other insects
- The backup problem
- Rare earth elements
- The high cost of windpower
- Violation of democratic rights
- Polls

The complete video is available on YouTube.

WIND RUSH was broadcast February 7th 2013 on CBC Doc Zone.
The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC) is to Canada what the BBC is to the UK: a government owned and semi-controlled TV chain - and it is Canada's biggest.

Produced, written and directed by Andrew Gregg.
Gordon Henderson, of 90th Parallel Productions of Toronto, is the executive producer.

1234Suivant >